Dear Students and Parents:

We want to make you aware of some changes to the course scheduling process at Riverton High for the 2020-2021 school year. The intent of the changes are to better accommodate students' class preferences and to reduce the stress associated with arena scheduling.

During the entire month of February students will have the opportunity to select the courses they would like to take during the next school year. Following their course requests on Skyward, we will build a master schedule to accommodate their choices and generate a class schedule for each student. As in the past, students will then have an opportunity to make adjustments to their schedule during the arena window. However, unlike the previous arena process, schedules will already be completed and students will only make minor changes as needed rather than build an entire schedule in Skyward.

Counselors will be visiting all social studies classes at the high school during the first week in February to discuss this process with students. Course request cards that list available classes, and instructions for using Skyward to select classes for next year will be given to students and are posted on our website at rivertonhigh.org. Incoming sophomores should attend the orientation meetings to receive course request materials and can visit with their middle school counselors for more details about the course request process. All students and parents can thoughtfully select classes at any time during the month of February through the student or parent Skyward login. Please pay careful attention to the dates below as the course request process during February is students' only opportunity to build their schedule and select their classes for the 2020-2021 school year.
